

Introduction Font Engineering Notes

12/18pt Roman

Weight Axis: 400

Width Axis: 100

In early 2017, work started on a custom typeface for use by CBC/Radio-Canada. In 2021 this typeface was expanded to cover a wider range of weights, plus roman and italic variable fonts. The expanded character set developed in 2021 increased the number of supported languages using the Latin script from 106 to 317, and the original glyph count of 490 has been expanded to 679.

In 2021, extensive work was done organizing the upstream Git repository, improving the way marks are handled, adding currency and other symbols to cover the Google Fonts Latin Plus character set, and drawing missing condensed light source files for both the roman and italic.

If you have any issues with, or questions about this variable font project, please leave an issue in the upstream Git repository. Pull requests are welcome, just remember to check your work in the proofs if you are adjusting the drawing and spacing.
